When digital meets postal -
Evolution or revolution?

ERGP stakeholder forum – Brussels September 20th

What will be discussed

- Stakeholders from the postal, digital and e-commerce sectors will gather to exchange views on topics which are crucial for the future, in particular in the context of the future legislative debate on the postal regulatory framework and e-commerce
- To discuss the way regulators should consider interactions between postal sector transformation and competition. A further element will be sustainable universal postal service provision, including safeguards to protect end users
- Impact of the emergence of new players in the e-commerce market, which offers new opportunities to consumers but it may also create new issues and regulatory challenges
- To discuss the ERGP work program for 2019 which will be out for consultation at that time
